

Jolie Loh, a fifteen-year-old Singaporean started her violin lesson at age of 5 and piano lesson at the age of 6. At age of 10, she studied piano under the tutelage of Dr. Iryna Vokhmyanina, the founder and the Artistic Director of Project "Symphony of Motherhood". Jolie shows a great passion on music in romantic period. With Dr. Iryna's inspiration, Jolie has started performing piano recital in public since 2015.

Jolie was awarded the Gold Awards in various music festivals and competition such as the 6th Singapore Performers' Festival and Chamber Music Competition in 2016, Asia Arts Festival (2016 & 2017), Golden Classical Music Awards (New York), Brilliant Talent Discovery Award (2017), Singapore 'Golden Lion Awards' International Youth Music Arts Competition (2018). She participated in many different concerts such Steinway Gallery's Rising Stars Concert Series 2016, 2017, charity concerts for Tan Tock Seng Hosiptal Community Fund. She extended her performance platform beyond Singapore such as participating the Winners' Gala concert at Carnegie Hall (2016) and Asia Pacific Outstanding Youth Piano Competition in Hong Kong Culture Centre (2017).

Jolie's aspiration is to gain experience in performing with various pianos at various venue, meet and be friended with musicians from all around the world and bring peace and joy to others with her music.